DVRs and network-connected tuners for Over-The-Air TV

Have you switched to free Over-The-Air digital TV and still want the ability to pause live TV and record programming in the same way as a cable/satellite DVR? Want to watch over-the-air programming on your phone, tablet or computer? There are products on the market to do just that - they're available from places like Amazon, Best Buy and Micro Center:

Digital Converter Boxes w/USB recording: $35-$50

Most all of the converter boxes on the market today offer basic "pause live TV" and program recording functions when connected to a USB storage device. Recording functionality might not be as versatile as a full-fledged DVR system, but might be sufficient for occasional recording.

Tablo - Network DVR/Tuner: $140 (2-tuner), $219 (4-tuner/wireless)

Tablo boxes connect to your home network and record to an external USB storage device. Compatible with Roku, Fire TV, iOS, Android, Xbox One, Windows and Mac.

AirTV - Network DVR/Tuner: $120 (2-tuner)

AirTV boxes connect to your home network and record to an external USB storage device. Integrated directly with the SlingTV app on Roku, FireTV, Android and iOS.

HDHomeRun - Network DVR/Tuner: $70 (2-tuner), $120 (4-tuner)

HDHomeRun boxes connect to your home network and record to network-attached storage (NAS) or PC. Compatible with Fire TV, iOS, Android, Xbox One, Windows, Mac and Linux.

Channel Master Stream + Set-top DVR: $149

The Stream+ is an Android TV-based box that connects directly to you TV and records an attached USB storage device.

Amazon Fire TV Recast - Network DVR/Tuner: $190 (2 tuner/500GB), $230 (4 tuner/1TB)

The Fire TV Recast is a network DVR with built-in storage. Compatible with Fire TV, Android and iOS.

TiVo Bolt OTA - Set-top DVR: $200 (500GB), $250 (1TB), $420 (3TB) + $6.99/mo

The Bolt is a set-top DVR which also allows you to stream recorded shows via the TiVo app on Android iOS, Roku and Fire TV.

Hauppauge - USB and PCI tuners

Hauppauge manufactures USB and PCI-Express tuners compatible with Windows PCs and Xbox One. Included software allows for live viewing and DVR functionality.
